City Happenings

Message From Mayor Flint

When the world needs saving guess who steps up? If you guessed the citizens of Hyde Park you would be perfectly correct! We had a most amazing humanitarian activity, with people donating, sewing, cooking, cutting, packaging, and quilting. There were so many items donated that entire rooms of committee members were filled! Here is the grand total of all the items we prepared: 187 adult hygiene kits, 116 fleece blankets, 10 tied quilts, 7 fleece tied blankets for Little Lambs, 38 girls pj kits, 31 boys pj kits, 50 receiving blankets, 63 burp cloths, 1600 feminine hygiene pads, and two overflowing tables with donations for Little Lambs. There is some thought that this should happen on a yearly basis and the hope is it will involve even more citizens of Hyde Park. Maybe you were busy, or afraid of the Mormons, or unsure of how to dress, but rest assured, if it happens again next year everyone will be welcomed with open arms!

Not only are we prepared to save the world, we are prepared to save ourselves! If there were an emergency situation, earthquake, fire, zombie apocalypse, the Hyde Park emergency response would swing into action. We had a practice run through, as we do every year, and everything went swimmingly. Community leaders gathered at the city office and we were briefed on the response from all of you, and we were instructed on some basics of running an EOC, emergency operation center (all government operations have to have an acronym). There are ham radios at every LDS church and at the city office, and information was relayed from block captains to the churches and then to the city office. The red or green flags were counted from each district and luckily this year everyone survived, unlike last year when a whole area failed to report in and we assumed they were all dead. In the event of a real emergency, the churches and the elementary school become emergency shelters and communication would be greatly facilitated by the ham radios. But the real nub of the emergency response is you, the fantastic citizens of Hyde Park! Are you prepared for an emergency? Do you have a 72 hour kit? A supply of water? An emergency evacuation plan? The city government is poised to help but we can’t get to everyone and it is important to be as self reliant as possible, for as long as it may take, until help can arrive. Remember the Boy Scout motto and “Be prepared”. Thank you for being such shining examples of goodness and sacrifice! I am extremely proud to be your mayor!

Jr Council

our motto is "Serving Others, One by One"

Congratulations to our March Good Neighbors -- Art & Joan Lancaster! The Lancaster’s were nominated for their years of quiet service in their neighborhood. They have cheerfully helped when asked and have also noticed needs and have taken care of them. We have caring and compassionate neighbors in Hyde Park and the Lancaster’s certainly are examples of that.

Do you have an amazing neighbor that you’d like us to recognize? Please let us know! Send an email to Good-NeighborAward@gmail.com

We love the sponsors of our gift basket. They include Kathy Kaye Foods, Alvey’s Chocolates, Great Harvest Bread Company, The Old Grist Mill, Freckle Farm & Maverik.

The Jr Council made a surprise appearance at the Planning & Zoning Meeting with treats in hand. We appreciate all the service they give to keep Hyde Park a wonderful place. Thanks P&Z!

We also surprised other public servants in Hyde Park at the end of the month with recognition for their service. Come back next month and we’ll tell you more about who they were.

Message from Police Chief Hawkes
There is a new website in town and it belongs to the North Park Police Department. Here is how to get there:
https://www.northparkpolice.org
As you take some time to explore the site you will discover a wealth of information. Check out our Patrol page, each officer is listed with contact information. You will also find a comment section to report traffic issues, tips or leads and general comments. On our financial page you will see tips in how to avoid becoming a victim of fraud. The Property Crimes page will give you some good ideas on how you can protect your property. Crimes Against Persons show the other entities that we collaborate with in assisting victims: Children’s Justice Center, Citizens Against Physical and Sexual Abuse, Bear River Mental Health, The Family Place and Division of Child and Family Services. We have a special page with forms that you can fill out and print off to bring with you to report an incident or request a report. Last, but certainly not least, is our blotter page. It shows our Facebook feed, press releases and mystery posts with pictures relating to some of our cases that we need your help in identifying a person of interest or a vehicle. We invite you to check out our Facebook page and follow us for current announcements and press releases.
