City Happenings

Message From Mayor Flint

Hello my friends! Are you hoping as much as I am that spring is just around the corner and we can kiss the last of that mushy white stuff good-bye? It’s been a pretty brutal winter but the upside is that we have plenty of water in the mountains so drink up!

Now down to the nitty gritty. I am issuing a call for repentance and reform. And if unheeded there will be consequences. Have I got your attention? I don’t know about you, but numerous times I have been cruising down Center Street/Hyde Park Lane and then I look down and I am going 37, 38, or more mph. As you know, the speed limit is 25 mph and, around that tricky corner by the park, it is 20 mph. Or I am zipping along 200 South and lose track of how fast I am going. It happens to all of us but that is no excuse. We have such nice wide streets and sometimes the spirit of Mario Andretti comes over us and we find ourselves racing to our destination much too fast. We all need to do better. There are children and pets and elderly people and other cars, and imagine how horrible we would feel if we ran over or into any one of those fragile and precious creatures. Remember how I mentioned consequences? Our police force is up to full quota once again and they have a pen and a pad and they know how to use them. Does that send shivers down your spine? I know it does mine. So let’s all be more mindful and do better. Warn those wild teenagers to watch out especially. I have had 5 wild teenagers so I know how it goes.

We continue our search for a new police chief. Once again we have 14 applicants (that seems to be our magic number). A few are repeats from the last round but most are new applicants and they are a fine group of people with excellent qualifications. This process is starting to seem like crossing the Sahara desert on foot without water or camels, but there is an oasis on the horizon so things are looking up.

Thanks for being such a fine group of upstanding law abiding citizens and making Hyde Park the best city in the world!

Great Utah ShakeOut
April 18th

Register to participate at www.shakeout.org

Almost 1 million Utahns participated in the Great ShakeOut last year. Take this opportunity to locate your Red and Green Flags and get them ready to hang on your windows. This is a great time to discuss with your family how you will respond in an emergency and how you can help with the response effort.

If you need a red and green flag, contact the Hyde Park City Office.

Jr. Council
We Love telling you who our Good Neighbor for February, Month of Love, is..... Dustin (Stretch) & Sherri Nate Family! Hyde Park received a wonderful gift when the Nates moved here 2 years ago. They have given service to friends and neighbors around them with dinners, snow removal, and help with projects and emergencies. They have been generous with their time; and their boys Payton, Jax and Gage even got involved. The family gives quiet but loving and caring service. We are grateful for all the kindness that goes around and around Hyde Park. Thank you Nate family!

Please let us know your nomination for the Good Neighbor Award. Email us at HPGood-Neighbor@gmail.com Let us surprise your wonderful neighbor

Message From Animal Control

Officer Krebs is offering his services and knowledge again this year. He is willing to lead a discussion about aspects of the animal world at your group event. Topics addressed in the past: Avoiding dog / cat bites, capturing animals, wild animals in the city and general animal control issues. He is willing to present for church, neighborhood or family groups. You can contact him at 435-994-1674.

On another note: As you know, we have some large buck deer in the City which attracts antler hunters this time of year. The hunters watch the deer with binoculars and park in front of your homes or on the streets. The hunters need written permission to enter private property. If you see suspicious vehicles parked in front of your home please call dispatch and have an officer respond.

Storm water

What Can We Do About Storm water Pollution?
Some people are quick to complain about water pollution, especially when it affects their favorite river, lake or beach. They may not realize that they may be contributing to this pollution when they tip harmful materials down the drain or carelessly drop litter on the road. We all have an impact on storm water quality, and we can all take steps to make a difference. Activities that seem harmless or insignificant on a small scale can have an enormous cumulative impact on our waterways. Imagine thousands of people in the streets around you dropping trash from their cars, sweeping dirt off their driveways or washing detergent off their cars down the street drains. It all ends up in the water.
